Entered as second-class matter October 18, 1912, at the Postoffice at Chicago, Ill., under Act of August 24, 1912

Scope and Nature of the Conference.

The National Conference of Charities and Correction exists to discuss the problems of charities and correction, to disseminate information and promote reforms. It does not formulate platforms.—Rules of Procedure.

The National Conference began at Saratoga, New York, in 1874, as a part of the Social Science Association. But, being in the beginning a gathering of a few representatives of the then-existing state boards of charities, it has since grown to a membership ranging between 2500 and 3000, located in all parts of North America and even foreign countries, and representing the entire variety of social service activities, voluntary and governmental, which have developed in recent years. The Conference "has always looked forward, rather than back, and many of the new social efforts of our day have found their early adherents and their most useful publicity at the Conference meetings."

Membership.

Annual dues, fiscal year ending December 31, are $2.50; sustaining membership, $10.00. Regular members are encouraged to become sustaining members. Considering the many varied advantages of membership in this organization the annual fee of $2.50 is unusually moderate. Members receive the volume of proceedings for the current year, carriage prepaid, and the Bulletin.

Publications.

The Conference has in stock extra copies of Proceedings of many meetings in former years, as well as pamphlet reprints of noteworthy addresses, committee reports, and symposiums on various subjects. Descriptive list will be sent on request.

In addition, this Bulletin is sent to all members of the Conference, and may be secured by non-members at the rate of fifty cents a year or fifteen cents a copy.

Information.

Readers are encouraged to write for further information about the Conference or its publications, or general questions of social improvement, directing inquiries to the central office at 315 Plymouth Court, Chicago, Illinois.

Scan Every Page!

Prospective attendants upon the Baltimore meetings should observe every announcement in this issue of the Bulletin. The features of the National Conference vary from year to year, and the only way to come prepared to realize the greatest possible advantage from the 1915 session is to familiarize oneself thoroughly with this program and schedule of events. Those expecting to attend for the first time are urged especially to read these announcements.

A Warm Welcome to Baltimore

The quality of reception that is given the National Conference by the people of the city in which its annual session is held exercises a remarkable influence over its success. The meeting this year will be the Baltimore Conference—not merely the 1915 meeting.

It will be interesting to members and other prospective attendants who have not already seen evidences of the fact, to learn that a great number of Baltimoreans, under the leadership of a strong group of social workers and public-spirited citizens, have since last fall been working constantly to prepare for an effective reception of the Conference. The many requirements and possibilities of hospitality are being anticipated. But, more important than formal entertainment, the Local Committee is determined that the Conference shall come as a guest that is intimately understood, so that the occasion shall be mutually profitable. The group that is directing preparations contains many of the most active members and supporters of the National Conference.

In addition to the entertainment features mentioned in the following pages, careful plans are being made to have delegates see the city and its institutions, and to meet one another and their hosts informally in the homes of the city. An excursion to the National Junior Republic is being arranged, and a base-ball game between Conference teams. And then, even beyond this, there are surprises in store for the visitors!

Are You Co-operating, Too?

The secretary of an associated charities writes, in respect to attending the Baltimore meetings: "We have just changed the date of our annual meeting from May to October, so that the General Secretary and Directors may be free to go."

An Appreciation From Cardinal Gibbons

From the Baltimore Sun: Cardinal Gibbons has expressed much interest in the meeting of the great National Conference of Charities and Correction, which will be held in Baltimore May 12 to 19, in a letter to Dr. J. Hall Pleasants, secretary of the Baltimore committee. The letter states:

"I am writing to say that I fully appreciate the importance of the coming National Conference of Charities and Correction and I heartily indorse the conference and trust that much good may come to the city of Baltimore and to the country at large from its deliberations.

It will give me the greatest pleasure to co-operate with your committee in making the conference a successful one. Yours in Xto.

"J. CARD. GIBBONS."

Railroad Rates

Efforts to secure a general reduction in railroad rates for delegates traveling to Baltimore have been unsuccessful. Delegates are reminded that they should in all cases inquire of their local passenger agents concerning a reduction before purchasing tickets, and also that where ten or more are traveling from one point a special party rate may be secured. In the latter connection, inquiry should be made of the member of the Committee on Transportation (see page 5) who is located nearest the point of departure.

Exhibits at the National Conference

In addition to the exhibit of social conditions and needs in Baltimore which is in preparation, a number of exhibits are being arranged in connection with the meetings of special groups. These displays will be placed separately, and there will be no attempt to present in any one location a comprehensive exhibit in all the fields of National Conference interest. However, prepared for the occasion, as they are to be, they will have a value for many delegates as great as that of the verbal discussions. There will be a large exhibit by the Committee on Public and Private Charities, jointly with the American Association of Officials of Charity and Correction; an exhibit by the American Association for the Study of Infant Mortality; an exhibit by the Committee on Social Hygiene; an exhibit by the Charity Organization Department of the Russell Sage Foundation; exhibits by schools of philanthropy, etc.

Baltimore Exhibit for the Conference

What promises to be one of the most interesting and valuable features in the local setting which Baltimore is providing for the National Conference is the special exhibit which is being prepared.

This exhibit is being got up by an Exhibit Committee, with the assistance of two experts secured through the co-operation of the Department of Surveys and Exhibits of the Russell Sage Foundation. The work of getting the committee together and laying general plans was begun in January. An appropriation was made from the funds being raised for the Conference, to meet the major part of the expense involved in this particular undertaking, with the expectation that in addition there would be many voluntary contributions of time, labor and material, and that a portion of the cost of each section of the exhibit would be borne by the organizations most directly interested.

The work of detailed design has been under way since the middle of February, and construction was begun about the middle of March. The exhibit will show primarily some of the most pressing local needs, in connection with social conditions. It is hoped that it will be finished by May 1 at the latest, and that it may thus be utilized for about ten days in advance of the Conference in directing attention to these special needs and in helping to arouse further interest in the Conference. Then during the week of the Conference it will be shown, probably at the Hotel Belvedere, with a view not only to informing the delegates, but also to enlisting their constructive criticism and advice as to ways and means of dealing with the specific problems pointed out. After the Conference, and especially next winter when the Maryland legislature convenes, recourse will be had to the exhibit again for the purpose of driving in the Conference's conclusions, educating the public, and securing necessary legislation.

Instead of attempting a comprehensive exhibit, the committee decided to concentrate on a few closely related subjects, with the Health of the Community as the central theme, and with sections on Infant Mortality, Medical Inspection of Schools, Mental Defectives, and Tuberculosis Among Negroes. In addition, there will be two other sections, which will somewhat broaden the exhibit's scope. One of these will portray the characteristics and needs of a comparatively isolated peninsular section of the city, Locust Point, and the excellent co-operation on the part of a number of ameliorative agencies in meeting these needs. The remaining section will have to do with the comprehensive Social Survey which the Social Service Corporation of Baltimore proposes to carry out, on a basis of broad community co-operation.

The directors of design and construction for the exhibit are Mrs. Mary Swain Routzahn and Mr. Walter E. Storey, of New York. The Exhibit Committee is composed of the following persons, representing a wide range of social agencies and interests: John Daniels, Chairman; Dr. Edward F. Buchner, Mr. Richard L. Cary, Mr. W. H. Davenport, Mr. W. W. Emmart, Dr. Horace E. Flack, Dr. S. J. Fort, Dr. John S. Fulton, Miss Anna Herkner, Mr. Geo. L. Jones, Miss Gertrude Knipp, Dr. J. H. Mason Knox, Jr., Miss Mary E. Lent, Mr. Wm. H. Maltbie, Dr. Frank A. Manny, and Mr. Robert C. Powell. In connection with volunteer assistance, special committees have also been organized, under the following chairmen: Models, Mr. Geo. M. Galtner; Construction, Mr. Herman H. Duker; Art work, Mr. Walter R. Gale; Photographs, Mr. Lloyd D. Norris; and Electricity, Mr. C. L. Reeder.

Committee on Transportation to Baltimore

One or two brief addresses will be made by prominent speakers. Further details will be announced later from the office of The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, 105 East 22nd Street, New York City.

State Conferences

Owing to the extensive space requirements of the program and announcements of the Baltimore meetings, it has been necessary to omit from this issue of the Bulletin an article on "The Management of State Conferences" and a consolidated index of state conference proceedings recently issued. Any who have special need of referring to this material should make inquiry of the National Conference office.

The location of the meeting room will be posted at Conference headquarters. Opportunity will be given at this time for the presentation of invitations by representatives of various cities.

JOSEPH C. LOGAN, Chairman.

Report of the Special Committee on Method of Nomination***

To the National Conference of Charities and Correction:

At the Memphis meeting a Special Committee was appointed to "suggest such amendments to the By-laws as may be necessary to put into effect the principle of full participation of the membership in nominating the officers of the Conference."

The Committee has considered very carefully, both by personal conference and correspondence, a considerable number of proposed changes in our present method of nominating and electing officers of the Conference.

The following report is submitted to the members at the request of the Executive Committee, in order that there may be time to consider carefully the proposed changes before they are voted on at Baltimore.

The Committee agreed upon the following principles to govern in adopting the new system:

First: That as far as possible all electioneering should be avoided at the Conference meetings, chiefly by requiring all nominations to be made well in advance.

Second: That every member should be given opportunity to participate in the nominations without at the same time creating an elaborate system of balloting by mail.

Third: That the responsibility for a decision as to the best nominees should be put on a small but representative committee.

Fourth: That the election of officers should be made to express the deliberate judgment of the majority of qualified members present at any annual meeting.

The proposed new system embodying these principles follows:

1. There shall be a Nominating Committee of nine members appointed by the President with the approval of the Executive Committee, within ninety days after the adjournment of the Conference.

2. The Committee shall send a signed request to all members (in the fall Bulletin) asking for suggestions of names for the various offices to be filled and for any suggestions regarding policies to be considered in making the nominations; these to be sent to the Chairman of the Committee on or before November fifteenth.

3. The Committee shall then draft its report which shall be submitted to the members of the Conference at least ninety days before the Conference opens (preferably in the January Bulletin.)

4. Nominations in addition to those made by the Nominating Committee may be made on the signed petition of any twenty-five members sent to the General Secretary at least thirty days in advance of the Conference meeting, when all nominations close. When such nominations are made in addition to those of the Nominating Committee, the General Secretary shall notify the members in the final Bulletin sent out in advance of the annual meeting.

5. The election of officers shall take place at the first business session of the Conference held more than twenty-four hours after its opening. The vote shall be by acclamation if there is only one set of nominations; by printed ballot if more than one set. In such case the balloting shall take place in the twenty-four hour period preceding the business meeting and the result shall be announced at the meeting; the votes being counted by five tellers appointed by the President, none of whom shall be officers or members of the Executive Committee. All members who have paid dues for two years immediately preceding the Conference and who have attended at least one previous Annual Conference shall be entitled to vote.

Respectfully submitted,

ROGER N. BALDWIN, Chairman,
GRAHAM R. TAYLOR,
ALICE HIGGINS LOTHROP,
AMOS W. BUTLER.

The Committee has also considered certain changes in the officers of the Conference but, as the Committee was not directly authorized to go into the matter, we submit the result of our conference as a suggestion rather than as a part of the formal report.

Our suggestion is that only the policy making officers of the Conference should be elected and the administrative officers appointed.

With this principle in effect the General Secretary, the Treasurer and Assistant Secretaries would be appointed by the Executive Committee instead of being elected by the Conference. The Conference itself would elect the President, Vice-President and five members of the Executive Committee each year.

It is also suggested that the number of Vice-Presidents be reduced to the number actually needed for the conduct of Conference business.

(Signed) ROGER N. BALDWIN.

IN MEMORIAM

Charles Richmond Henderson

Prepared by Graham Taylor.

The following is an abridgment of an appreciation of Dr. Charles Richmond Henderson by Prof. Graham Taylor to be published in The Survey:

The loss of few men could be more lamented and less ignored throughout the whole world of social work than that of Prof. Charles Richmond Henderson. He was so long and widely, vitally and personally related to so many volunteer and official, private and public movements and agencies for the common welfare that he will be missed from the whole round of such fellowship and work, both in this country and abroad, as few men would be. The cutting off of such a life at the zenith of its power and influence is the loss of a national asset, all the more severely felt because the stroke fell so suddenly that it could not have been anticipated either by himself or any of his friends.

A native of Indiana, a graduate of the old University of Chicago in the class of 1870 and of the Baptist Union Theological Seminary in the class of 1873, for nineteen years he rendered devoted and effective service as pastor at Terre Haute, Indiana, and Detroit, Michigan. Assuming the first of his varied functions in the University of Chicago in 1892, he took a year's leave of absence after eight years' work in the sociological department to study abroad for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy, which was conferred upon him by the University of Leipzig in 1901. Upon his return he rose rapidly to the full professorship in Sociology and head of the department of Practical Sociology and also served as University chaplain, meanwhile bearing his full share of editorial work on the American Journal of Sociology and the American Journal of Theology, published by the University. His authorship has been varied, continuous, self-exacting and valuable, including such widely useful and well-used volumes as his Introduction to the Study of Dependent, Defective and Delinquent Classes, Social Elements, Modern Prison Systems, Modern Methods of Charity, Industrial Insurance in the United States, The Citizen in Industry (a volume in press), Outdoor Labor for Convicts and Social Programs in the West, which he himself describes in the preface as his "life message" delivered in the Orient on the Barrows Lectureship Foundation.

The list of Professor Henderson's working memberships and presidencies in national and international societies is impressive. He was president of the Twenty-Sixth National Conference of Charities and Correction, of the National Prison Association, member of the Societe Generale des Prisons and was United States Commissioner to the International Prison Congress, in the proceedings of which he bore a notable part. His official positions were many and exacting. He was president of the Chicago Society of Social Hygiene and a member of the Chicago Vice Commission, secretary of the Illinois Commission on Occupational Diseases, chairman of the Committee on Adult Probation, of the Mayor's Commission on Unemployment. He was president of the United Charities of Chicago and the first lecturer in the Chicago School of Civics and Philanthropy.

To write a personal appreciation of Professor Henderson for publication seems almost foreign to the spirit of his friendship and of his public service. He rather closed than opened the way for any expression of appreciation even from his intimate friends. In his public service he neither sought nor expected credit. He simply and devotedly undertook to do what seemed to be incumbent upon him to attempt. He was as willing to get as to give help from others. He was so straightforward and transparent that no one needed to look twice to see clear through his intent and motive. In undertaking what ought to be attempted, he dared to fail, yet did his best to succeed. Though always shrinking from self-assertion, he never hesitated in asserting the claims of justice and charity with a vigor and intensity which increased with his years. Deferential to others' feelings and opinions to an extent which seemed to be disadvantageous to his own endeavors at times, he never failed to stand sturdily and courageously for that public policy which was best attested by facts and experience, whenever occasion required aggression or defense.

Chicago and all America lose a citizen foremost in self-sacrificing, public-spirited, constructive service and gain the heritage of a type of citizenship which is the hope of the future.

Samuel G. Smith

Prepared by Hastings H. Hart.

Rev. Samuel G. Smith, Ph. D., LL. D., who died March 29th, 1915, was vitally interested in the social study and the social work of his generation. At the age of twenty he became principal of Albion Seminary in Iowa, where he remained for a period of three years. He then entered upon the active Christian ministry, in which he continued from 1875 through the remainder of his life.

In 1888 Dr. Smith organized the People's Church in St. Paul, Minnesota. In 1889 he became a member of the Minnesota State Board of Corrections and Charities, on which he continued for seven years. In 1895 he was the moving spirit in organizing the Associated Charities of St. Paul, where he succeeded in bringing various antagonistic agencies into co-operation. In 1905 he was President of the National Conference of Charities and Correction at Portland, Oregon, where he presented a notable address on "Social Standards," intended "to show the common ground upon which may stand the various groups of workers represented in this Conference."

Dr. Smith was for many years an active member of the American Prison Association and was President of its meeting held at St. Paul in 1914. For the last fifteen years of his life he was Head Professor of the Department of Sociology and Anthropology in the University of Minnesota. The trend of his teaching is indicated in his books on "Social Pathology" and "Democracy and The Church," published in 1912.

Dr. Smith was intensely human and he grappled with human problems in concrete form. He worked among the poor. He visited and studied institutions at home and abroad. He assisted in locating a hospital for the insane. He stimulated all of the social activities of the state of Minnesota. He was intense and sometimes dogmatic, but he was tremendously in earnest and was an independent thinker. He was an active force in the development of the social institutions of Minnesota, and had an efficient part in establishing the ideals and the standards that have made them notable. It was his privilege to be in at the founding of a mighty commonwealth and to help to lay the foundation of institutions which are to stand, please God, for a thousand years.

It was my privilege, as secretary of the Minnesota State Board of Corrections and Charities, to work under Dr. Smith for seven years. He was a wise counsellor, incisive in his judgment, prompt, resourceful and skillful both in leading the action of the board and in promoting wise legislation.

Grace Dodge

Prepared by Mrs. William B. Rice

Miss Dodge's first connection with philanthropic work was in January, 1882, when she joined the State Charities Aid Association, and became chairman of its Standing Committee on the Elevation of the Poor in their Homes.

Her public work began on her appointment as one of the first two women members of the Board of Education, in 1887, in which position she and her associate, Mrs. Agnew, effected many reforms. What she accomplished for the city, the nation, and the world, were fittingly commemorated at the beautiful memorial services held at the National Headquarters of the Young Women's Christian Association Tuesday evening, February 9, 1915. Mr. Seth Low spoke of her wonderful work in the initiation of the Teachers' College, supported for many years by her efforts, and said that the Teachers' College was her most fitting monument. Her deep interest in young working girls, which led to the organization of the working girls' clubs, in the Young Women's Christian Associations here and abroad, and in the missionary field, were also commemorated at the memorial services. But highest of all was the testimony to her personal qualities—her great intelligence, her far-seeing vision, her liberality, her self-forgetfulness and modesty, the warm welcome, quick understanding, and sympathy she gave to all who came to her. As has been said of her, she had the intellect of a statesman, the heart of a woman, and the hands of the Lord's Servant.

American Academy of Medicine to Meet at San Francisco

Announcement has been made of the fortieth annual session of the American Academy of Medicine (specializing in medical sociology), to be held at San Francisco June 25-28, 1915, at the St. Francis Hotel. Dr. Woods Hutchinson is president-elect of the Academy, and Dr. Charles McIntire, 52 N. Fourth St., Easton, Pa., secretary-treasurer. The principal topic of discussion is to be, Medicine in its Relationships to Commerce and Transportation. The following quotation is made from one of its committee reports: "The American Academy of Medicine has specialized in medical sociology for the last eight years. The revised Constitution and By-Laws make it possible for us to so extend our membership as to include as Fellows all physicians who are interested in this phase of medicine and, in Associate membership, all workers in the field of sociology who recognize that scientific medicine is fundamental to all inquiries and investigations of abnormal social conditions, and that the co-operation of the physician is essential for the successful administration of measures for the correction of conditions which interfere with human efficiency."

SUGGESTIONS TO DELEGATES

1. Arrangements for accommodations at Baltimore should be made directly with hotels as early as possible. If you wish additional information or suggestions in this respect, you should address Mr. George L. Jones, Chairman, Hotels Committee, 16 St. Paul St., Baltimore.

2. If you are not a member and have not written the general office at 315 Plymouth Court, Chicago, of your intention of going to Baltimore, do so at once. There may be some important information about the meeting which otherwise would not reach you.

3. You should make early inquiry of your railroad agent about the fare to Baltimore. If no special rate is granted, either he or your nearest representative on the Committee on Transportation (see page 5) may tell you of the possibility of a party rate.

4. If you are a delegate to the Conference, specifically authorized to represent your state, city or some club or other organization, you should present your letter of appointment at the registration desk at the Baltimore headquarters on arrival.

5. On arrival, it would be well to go directly to the hotel or other place where you have made your reservation and make sure of your accommodations. Then, as soon as possible, come to Conference Headquarters at Hotel Belvedere and register, so your friends will know where you are and so you may learn what is going on about the Conference. If you have difficulty in securing your accommodations or have none engaged you should make inquiry at the Information Desk, at Headquarters.

6. All incoming delegates, not familiar with Baltimore, should note the following directions: Persons coming in on the Pennsylvania R. R. or Western Maryland R. R. should get off at Union Station and those coming in on the Baltimore & Ohio R. R. should get off at Mt. Royal Station. Union Station fronts on Charles Street and Mt. Royal is two blocks west of Charles and by walking east cars on Charles Street can be reached. After each hotel listed below will be found directions as to how to reach it by means of cars running on Charles Street.
